WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS:

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions or reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specified conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be “used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research.” If a user makes a request for, or later uses, a photocopy or reproduction in excess of “fair use,” that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if, in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

The copyright status of photographs and printed material is often difficult to determine, because it is effected by such things as the employment status of the creator, the date material was created, the date material was first published, what information accompanied the first publication, and whether the copyright holder exercised his/her/its rights to extension. The Brooklyn Historical Society has not determined copyright status for many of the photographs and published materials in our collection. Therefore, Brooklyn Historical Society is acting only as an owner of the physical original.

- Brooklyn Historical Society is not responsible for either determining the copyright status of the material or for securing copyright permission.
- Possession of a photocopy does not constitute permission to use it.
- Permission to use copies other than for private study, scholarship, or research requires the permission of both Brooklyn Historical Society and the copyright holder.
- Patron is responsible for payment of fee prior to delivery of copies.

I have read the conditions under which the material to be copied is made available to me by the Brooklyn Historical Society’s Othmer Library. I agree to abide by them and pay for the production and handling of the reproductions. Citations to this copy must identify the location of the originals in the “Collection of the Brooklyn Historical Society.”
